Northern Ill. Mfg. Co., War Plant Replaces Old Gresengine Co. Here

New Industry Starts With Six Employees and More Equipment

Out of the dormant Gresengine Co. has grown a new industry for Antioch, the Northern Illinois Manufacturing Co., situated in the basement of the Antioch garage, 939 Main st.

The new company, now employing six men and ready to add more, is doing sub-contracting work in defense materials.

The company recently was incorporated at Springfield with 250 shares of common stock at $100 par value. The lathes and other equipment were obtained from the Gresengine Co., and additional ones purchased so that the production ability is tripled. Additional space may be needed.

The new organization is well financed, officials said.

Under production now are hydraulic and pneumatic cylinders used for airplanes and large motor vehicles.

Regular monthly meeting of the organization will be held early in the evening, and a musical program will be enjoyed. Students of the Warren township high school, who are soon to compete in the State music contest will provide this entertainment. A talk, explaining the features of the new building, and also the different uses it will be up to, will be given by R. H. Lundahl, principal at the school.

After the meeting and program, the parents will be invited to inspect the various rooms in the new building, and exhibits of art and other work of the pupils will be on display. A lunch, served by the first and fourth grade mothers will complete the evening's entertainment. Members of the P.T.A. expect a large crowd and urge all residents of the community to attend.

Wilmot High Will Get New Addition for Class Rooms and Gymnasium

Vote Last Thurs. Favored Project 255 to 234; Start in June

Two rooms and a gymnasium-auditorium will be added to the Wilmot High school as the result of a favorable vote of 255 to 234 on the proposal last Thursday night.

The new addition, construction of which will start in June will give the school a capacity for 350 students. The enrollment now is 140.

Five hundred persons attended the special meeting in the school gymnasium last week at which the decision on the project was reached. Glen Pacey served as chairman, and Raymond Foster, clerk, certified the delivery of notifications of the meeting, saying that 856 persons had been notified directly and 492 by mail.

The state of Wisconsin ordered the Wilmot board of education to take some action after an inspection revealed the school had too few facilities and the gymnasium is not safe.

It allowed the borrowing of $400,000 for 20 years at 20 payments on 2 1/2 percent interest for construction.

Strong opposition led by Arthur Bloss, Salem farmer, arose to the addition on the strength of the possibility of a decline in the student body because of withdrawals for the new Center high school on Rte. 50 and a new parochial school in Kenosha.

It was revealed, however, that grade school enrollment forecast a high school attendance of 256 students in eight years.

After the vote, Bloss asked that differences be forgotten and all work together for "a wonderful school."

The new gymnasium is expected to seat 1,000 persons and three additional classrooms, combination agricultural and industrial shops; new steam heating system; and new office and council room, will be provided.

Zion I. T. A. Chairman to Address Local P. T. A. On School Legislation

The grade school Parent-Teacher association will have R. L. Newenham, legislative chairman of the Lake Shore division, section one, Illinois Teachers association, as its speaker Monday evening.

Mr. Newenham, a Zion, resident, will speak on "Legislation for the Schools of Illinois."

Community singing will be led by Hans von Holweide.

Kindergarten mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ila Lasso will be in charge of refreshments.

There will be a shower of toys, books and equipment for the kindergarten room.

The P. T. A. will have a card party on Saturday, Apr. 21.

Mach. 1st Class, Clyde McLain, who has been serving on a destroyer in Japanese waters since September, arrived home recently for a three week furlough. After spending a few days in Antioch he and his family expect to visit relatives at Parkersburg, West Virginia.

Open School Bids Tonight
The Antioch High school board of education will open bids on the new $700,000 addition to the school tonight. The opening was set for Monday night but the contractors bidding asked a delay of a few days.

Card Party Planned
The Lakeside Rebekah lodge will hold a public card party on Saturday, April 7 in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Telephone Franchise May Be Annulled by New Action of Board

Seal Not Affixed to New Document Because Of Opinion

The village of Antioch may yet operate on its 1898 telephone franchise.

The village seal was not yet affixed to the new franchise last week when public opinion and the advice of the Illinois Municipal league caused President James McMillen to hold up the transaction for 30 days.

Village Attorney Edward C. Jacobs was called last Wednesday by Atty. Matthey of the Illinois Municipal league and advised to urge the board not to sign the perpetual franchise.

When told the document was signed but the seal not affixed, he urged the village to stop proceedings.

Manager John Litter of the Bell Telephone Co., returning to Antioch the same day, told McMillen that if the village wants to return to its earlier franchise, it probably could be arranged.

The matter will again be taken up at the next meeting of the village board, and the action may be to rescind the order to the village president to complete the contract.

The Illinois Municipal league recommends that no franchise with utilities be signed for a term longer than 25 years and suggests 15 and 20 year documents.

The village is a member of the league.

Red Cross Drive Gets Good Help; Will Meet Quota

Antioch's Red Cross drive is well underway this week with ten of the forty workers having already canvassed their territories and turned in the funds collected. A total of more than $300 has been turned into the treasurer to date and the expected total will be more than the $2,500 quota.

Many of the workers are expected to finish the work this week and have the entire township covered by the end of the drive set for March 31.

CHARLES J. CERMAK, JR.

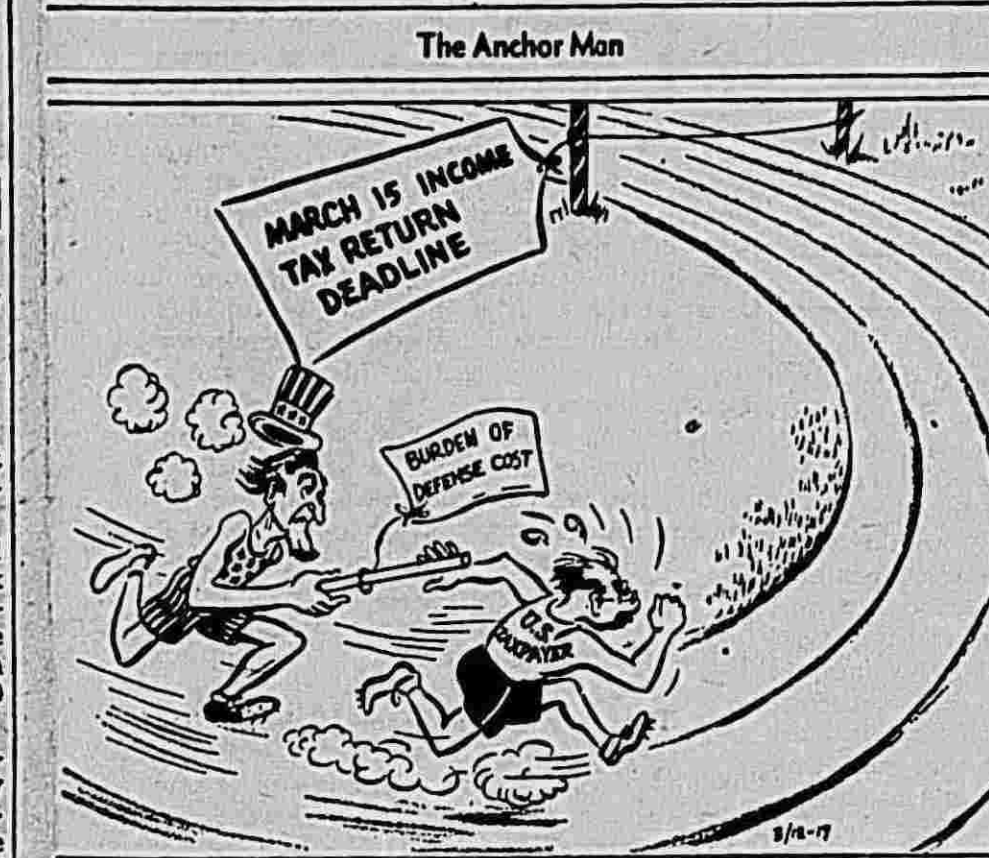

General response has been good, according to the workers who have reported and it is hoped that Antioch can again meet or exceed its quota this year. Chas. Cermak heads the drive for Antioch Township.

Allendale Routs Round Lake in Home Final 55 to 29

The Allendale Tigers closed their home basketball season recently by walloping Round Lake Grade school 55 to 29.

The Tigers took a 34 to 15 half-time lead, spearheaded by Lee Wyatt who scored 13 points in the first half. Round Lake was outplayed the whole game as the reserves kept the lead with a sharp defense and a fast break offense. John Kelly took scoring honors for both teams with 19 points, followed by Wyatt. This was victory number 12 for Allendale against one defeat.

The Allendale Juniors also made the Round Lake lightweights their twelfth victims of the season by defeating them 33 to 21. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with Round Lake threatening but couldn't close the gap. Jim Learham led the scoring with 9 points.

Petition for Gas Rate Changes Is Filed by P. S. Co.

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois today petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a two-way adjustment in its gas rates which, if approved, would increase costs for 118 large industrial customers by approximately $900,000 a year and reduce costs by a corresponding amount for 380,000 residential and small commercial gas users.

The proposed rate changes will have virtually no effect on the company's total gas revenues, it was said.

The industrial users whose gas rates would go up are mostly those who buy large amounts of gas under interruptible or off-peak rates which have been unchanged since 1932, and which are unreasonably low. The gas is used mainly for processing industrial products or for boiler fuel and is purchased on a "when available" basis when demands of regular gas customers are low.

The rates for these industrial customers will be increased three-tenths of a cent and five-tenths of a cent a therm for the two classes of interruptible processing customers and five-tenths of a cent a therm for interruptible boiler fuel customers. Rates for most off-peak industrial users who get gas only during warm months are also to be raised slightly. Due to rising costs, the low industrial rates no longer carry a fair share of the total costs of providing gas service, the company said. The utility estimates the total increase in the industrial rates at $912,000 a year based on 1950 use by these customers.

The additional revenue of $912,000 a year from the increased industrial rates will be passed on to 380,000 residential and small commercial gas users in the form of an estimated $918,000 a year rate reduction. Rates for general residential customers (cooking) will be decreased by an average of 14%. Residential water heating rates will go down an average of 3% while residential space heating and commercial users will get slight reductions.

General Residential, first 10 therms—18c; next 30 therms—11c; all over 40 therms—7.5c.
Residential water heating, first 10 therms—18c; next 30 therms—11c; all over 40 therms—7.5c.
Residential space heating, first 10 therms—18c; next 30 therms—11c; next 50 therms—7.5c; all over 90 therms—7c.

The company has requested approval of the new rate schedule to become effective April 15.

Old Lundeen Home, Route 59, Burned Tuesday Morning

The old Lundeen mansion, route 59, in Lake Villa township, was completely destroyed by a fire of unknown origin Tuesday morning at about 3 a. m.

The building was untenanted at the time and the fire was noticed by residents of Grass lake who called the Lake Villa fire department. Despite efforts of fire departments at the scene the building was destroyed. A snow storm also hampered the efforts of fire fighters.

The building was owned by the Alexian brotherhood, a religious order, and was valued at $50,000 and the furnishings at $10,000.

Vos, Cunningham and Garland Unopposed for Village Trustee Posts

Town Election Has Contest For Two Offices Only On April 3

Barring any write-in vote, Antioch's village board will include Edmund F. Vos, George Garland, and Merrill Cunningham, incumbent, after May 1.

The three filing on the same ticket found no opposition at the final hour of filing Tuesday.

The election will be on Tuesday, April 17, and unless unforeseen opposition arises, the vote is expected to be rather light.

Town Election Apr. 3
Listed under one party, People's Party, opposition is seen for two township offices in the election Apr. 3.

William Rosing, incumbent is opposed by Anthony J. Scully, for supervisor, and Robert J. Webb, incumbent, is opposed by Milton Crandall for highway commissioner.

William H. Herbert is unopposed for Justice of Peace, and Louise R. Vos and Lillie M. Petty likewise for the two library trustee positions.

No petition was presented for constable and it is probable that the board of supervisors will have to appoint one.

Harold Gaston Burned In Explosion-Fire at Antioch News Monday

Harold Gaston, 32, composing room employee of the Antioch News is suffering from badly burned hands as the result of a gasoline explosion and fire at the newspaper plant last Monday evening.

Gaston after smothering flames on his gasoline covered hands, had presence of mind to grab a C. O. 2 fire extinguisher and to snuff out a roaring fire before it could do much damage.

He was then taken by the Antioch Rescue squad to Victory Memorial hospital in having his hands dressed and placed in splints, and was brought to his home at Beachwood subdivision Tuesday. He will be unable to work for several weeks.

The fire occurred while Harold was cleaning his speedboat motor. Fumes that filled one end of the room were ignited by the spark from an electric drill used as a part of a pump he built to spray the gasoline.

Paper, celluloid, and other light inflammable materials in various parts of the newspaper press and typesetting section of the composing room had all caught at the time the extinguisher was used.

Jack Smith Bowls 300 Game at Antioch Lanes; First Perfect Since '45

Although he bowls in the Business Men's league on Wednesday night and the Men's Major league on Friday night, the game was a post-league play.

Smith made his record on alleys 3 and 4 in a pot-game with Elroy Anderson, Ed Carney, and Herbert Metcalf. All strikes were of the crash variety with no flukes.

Because the game was not in league play Smith will not get credit with the American Bowling Congress. The perfect game is the first at the alleys since Henry Pape chalked on up in March, 1945. A perfect game is exceedingly rare. Smith is an employee at the Round Lake Lumber Co.

Milk Driver Arrested For Taking Collections

Ernest Lair, 35, of Camp Lake Gardens, Wisconsin, was arrested last Friday for a second shortage in collection accounts. He had been employed by Frank Powles, Powles Food Mart, and had been short in his accounts some months ago, but had been released on a promise to make good the shortage.

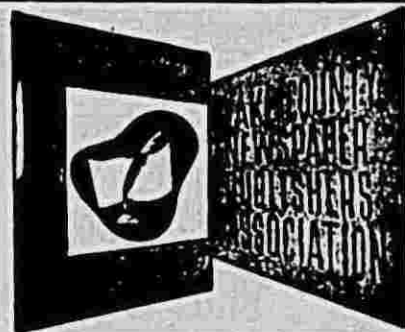

After the second time, apparently Powles' patience was exhausted, and his arrest was made Friday by Sheriff's deputies.

Economic Highlights

The great debate continues over whether the President has the legal or moral right to send troops to help garrison Europe without the consent of Congress, and, regardless of current actions, will continue for a long time to come. In more placid times, this extremely important dispute undoubtedly would have been given much more press coverage and comment than has actually been the case—it might, for instance, have been comparable to the late President Roosevelt's Supreme Court packing proposal in its impact on the public mind. Today, however, there are so many vital issues, and so much is going on in the world, that it is clearly impossible for each problem and controversy to be given the space and attention it may deserve.

The principal differences between the President and those who oppose him over the troops-to-Europe issue are sharp and clear-cut.

The President points to the fact that the Constitution specifically states that he is Commander in Chief of all the military forces. He holds that the decision as to where troops shall be sent, and in what number, is a military and diplomatic decision, and that it can only be made by the Executive. And he cites many cases, going far back into our history, where other Presidents have sent troops on foreign duty without the consent or advice of Congress.

Those who think otherwise—and Senator Taft has been a leader of this group—have strong arguments on their side. They say that the writers of the Constitution made the President Commander in Chief so that he could immediately rally the nation's defenses in event of attack—in the stagecoach days, it took weeks to convene Congress, where now it could be convened overnight. They argue that it is a very different matter to send divisions of troops to Europe, in the face of the Russian menace, than it was to dispatch a few soldiers or sailors to deal with the Barbary pirates or Mexican bandits. Probably their most powerful argument is that, if the President can send troops wherever he likes and in any number, he actually has the power to make war without the consent of Congress, which would be a direct violation of the Constitution. It is an interesting fact that some Senators who are battling the President over this far-reaching issue are for, not against, sending substantial numbers of American troops abroad to serve under General Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact command. But they do not believe that one man should have authority to make that decision.

There is still another side to this which Walter Lippman touched on in a recent column. "If the President were wiser than he is," Mr. Lippman wrote, "he never would have dreamed of questioning the right of Congress to participate in the unprecedented project of placing an American standing army in Europe and of merging it in an international army. He would not only have sought the advice of Congress but he would have insisted from the outset that Congress share his responsibility." Mr. Lippman differed sharply with Governor Dewey's unequivocal support of the President on this issue, and said, "Can Governor Dewey argue that the project of an American standing army in Europe, involving perhaps 750,000 men, can be called a mere 'deployment' like sending troops to Hawaii, Alaska, or even by putting ground crews at some air strips in Great Britain?"

So the various arguments run. One thing is sure—whatever the ultimate decision, this is one of the most important Constitutional questions that has ever arisen in this country.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Trying to come up with a 200 word reason why this land of ours—with its long record of using horse-sense—should find itself in its present uneasy bed, is today's task. We are in our confused dilemma from listening to outbursts longer than 200 words. Full half hour rosy fireside chats, 2 column columns, have been our menu. After which, we figured we knew under which shell was the pea—but under which, it wasn't.

We have focused our binoculars on an ignis fatuus, which means—if you have not been keeping right up on your Latin—ignis for fire, and fatuus for foolish—will-o-the-wisp, for short. Talkative folks come to town in droves—the lunch clubs listen—the reporters listen. We been told to relax, we could have prosperity via spending—that the Govt. could make rough roads smooth—that more and more Govt. debt is not important, it is just owing the money to ourselves. Big City editors were fooled, more than half our citizens lost their equilibrium. We been worn to a frazzle from talk.

Now, nice people, all of you know better—all of you have been around—all of you know that the barker at the circus is a salesman. He sells tickets. Put 2 and 2 together—and when you amble down to the lunch club or tune-in on some savor-of-the-Nation, don't be a sucker.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

YOU MAY BE DEAF!

Test Yourself!

Although only a specialist can scientifically determine the type and amount of hearing loss, answering the following questions may give you a clue as to whether your hearing is up to normal.

Write Yes or No

- Do you find people seem to be "mumbling" or slurring their words when they talk to you?
- Do you hear better in noisy places than in quiet ones?
- Are you bothered by head noises or "ringing" in the ears?
- Do harsh loud noises seem actually painful?
- Do you find that, at one moment, you cannot hear someone speaking to you and, at the next, they seem to be shouting?
- Can you hear the sound of a voice but find it difficult or impossible to understand what is being said?
- Do you seem to hear better with one ear than the other?
- When a group of people are talking, do you seem to have trouble hearing?
- Do you have trouble hearing when going to church, listening to the radio, television, or when seeing a movie... do you have trouble hearing your children, grandchildren?

If your answer to any one of the above questions is "Yes," you may have a hearing loss. If your answer is yes to more than one question, your hearing is probably impaired. In either case, you should send for the FREE book "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear" or see your local Beltone Hearing Service Consultant at

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the rich graces of Spirit, manifested in day-by-day evidences of divine Love, are the enduring qualities we all must cultivate and practice, will be discussed in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, next Sunday. Title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, March 18, is "SUBSTANCE."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (104:31): "The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever; the Lord shall rejoice in his works."

Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon include this passage:

"Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"To himself, mortal and material man seems to be substance, but his sense of substance involves error and therefore is material, temporal."

"As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter" (1:301).

Runyard Wins Award For Letter Published In Chicago Newspaper

Alonzo Runyard, Spafford Street, Antioch, was honored this week by the publication of a letter featured on page one of the Chicago Herald American last Friday, March 9. His letter was one of a series currently being published by the newspaper on the same theme as Fulton Oursler's great book, "Why I know there is a God."

The publication of the letter carries a $25.00 donation to the Antioch Methodist church in the name of Mr. Runyard.

The letter written by Mr. Runyard follows:

"I know there is a God because it seems to me so impossible for this old world to have existed so long without a power much greater than human power guiding it. Left only to human guidance, it would have destroyed itself quickly and surely. We can witness this in the fall of the Roman Empire and the way the Christians survived with their belief in Christ."

I attended Sunday school and church at an early age and became a member of the church at the age of 15. I believe at that time, I accepted a belief in God as a matter of course. Having been brought up in this way, it seemed more natural to believe than not to believe.

But, I think it was not until the age of 17, when I enlisted in the U. S. Marines and was sent into battle on the fields of France that I actually felt the presence of God beside me. And not then—until the opportunity had been given me to help a fellow man to see and feel the presence of God.

Up there in the front line amid the machinegun fire and the bursting of high explosive shells, one of my buddies upon observing the comfort and calm I obtained from the reading of my New Testament in a shell hole, unburdened himself to me. He said that although he believed in God, he still felt that he was lost because having been brought up in a Christian home, he had not joined a church and as he put it—"had not confessed God before men."

After he told me this I read many verses of the Bible to him, prayed for him and with him at every opportunity we had up there in Belleau Wood in the shell holes. And there it was that I really felt the presence of a living God, and Wilson, my buddy, came to feel the presence of a Living God.

I went on from there to be wounded and sent home—Wilson never came back to his home in the U. S. A., but I know he went home to his Heavenly Father."

Lakeside Scout Leaders To Plan First Exhibit At Grass Lake Monday

Plans for the Girl Scout exhibit on April 14 at the Round Lake Consolidated school will be made at a meeting of the Lakeside Girl Scout Leaders club at 8 p. m. Monday in the Grass Lake school.

The meeting is considered important by the executives because plans to the last detail must be formulated.

They requested leaders to submit their troop plans for exhibits as to size and kind so that proper space and placing may be allocated by the exhibit committee.

"It is imperative that any leader or co-leader who cannot attend in person send a representative to the meeting Monday," Mrs. A. H. Nordling, publicity chairman announced.

"We cannot stress too often or too greatly the need for co-operation to bring success to this first Girl Scout exhibit to be held within the Lakeside council of the Girl Scouts of America."

Youth Completes Dangerous 35-Mile Trip in Iron Lung

LANCASTER, Pa. — Thomas Fasnacht, 17, completed the most dangerous journey of his life—one that could have cost him his life if anything had gone wrong.

The frail boy, so stricken by infantile paralysis that he can live only in an iron lung, was moved 35 miles from Lancaster General Hospital to Harrisburg's Polyclinic Hospital in a moving van using a big iron lung powered by portable power plants. He could not be moved in a portable lung because he would not live more than a few minutes in one.

The Pennsylvania Power & Light Company was called in and they canvassed the route and found a number of poles along the way which linemen could climb to tap main lines for power if the portable units went out.

As a further precaution the light company canvassed the route and estimated how long it would take the moving van and trailer to make the trip. Then they contacted people living at 5-minute intervals and arranged to have extension cords stretched from each of these houses to the side of the highway so that if all else failed, the power lines in the homes could be tapped.

As for getting Thomas from his hospital bed to the truck, the company built master switches and laid a light, flexible cable which connected with the hospital power until Thomas was wheeled into the moving van. Then the power was switched from the hospital to the little power plants.

State police, equipped with walkie-talkies, led the way and doctors and nurses kept Thomas company on the journey.

The boy, by the way, has developed into a backward-reading fellow. In his iron lung he can watch television through a mirror. But the printing is all backward. By now, he reads that as well as he used to read forward.

Pilot Lands on Carrier Using Left Hand, Knees

Marine Capt. Donald Conroy of Chicago saluted the catapult officer on the carrier Sicily too enthusiastically recently. His arm went out of the cockpit into the propwash of his roaring engine and his shoulder was dislocated.

He managed to manipulate the controls with his left hand and knees and return to the carrier. He fainted from the pain as the plane landed.

India's Princes Form Union To Protect Ancient Rights

BOMBAY, India—India's princes have formed a union. They banded together recently to protect themselves against the Indian government's encroachments against their ancient privileges and dignities.

The princes said the main purpose of their "union" was to win recognition of their traditional rights and privileges and to arrest their deteriorating position. The union of maharajas and nawabs (Muslim princes) is reported to number 100.

The princes were reported to be displeased by the fact that "not a single former ruler had been invited to an official function since India became independent, three and one-half years ago."

It was also reported the princes had once considered affiliating themselves with the Indian National Trade Union congress but were advised that they could not be considered a "legitimate working class body."

Navy Works on High-Speed, Long-Diving Submarine

WASHINGTON—The navy reported recently it is working on a new type submarine that would be a "true submarine" in that it could stay submerged indefinitely.

One navy officer said it was "conceivable" that the new underwater craft would do 26 knots submerged and 30 knots on the surface. Existing submarines can do only about 12 to 13 knots submerged.

The officer said the Germans experimented with the new type submarine, and that the British now have developed one and this country is working on one. He also indicates that the high-speed submarine was not too long in the future.

Italians Deluge Policemen With Gifts of Cakes, Wine

ROME, Italy—Tons of cake and thousands of gallons of wine were stacked in the center of Italy's main metropolitan intersections recently.

The food and drink were gifts from the people and commercial firms to their policemen on the feast of the Epiphany. It's an annual ritual in the nation's big cities.

Police vehicles toured the streets gathering up the gifts. At the close of the day the offerings were distributed among all members of the force.

SHORT STORY

Take The Lead

By Sidney Du Broff

MISS PARISH drove her ancient automobile along the deserted highway toward home. Her deep satisfaction was justifiable in view of the successful play she had produced and directed that evening. Nothing Broadway would care to see, but a huge triumph for the amateurs of Deep Valley High School.

Even Mr. Wilks, principal of Deep Valley High, who was never lavish in his praise had said, "Miss Parish, we are extremely proud to have you as a member of our faculty. I speak for the town as well as its school."

Now it was over, except for the party she was giving for the cast. Miss Parish applied pressure to the accelerator. Being detained at the theatre had made her late. She knew the cast would already be arriving at her home.

As she rounded the sharp turn in the road she heard a sudden noise followed by a loud hiss. The car pitched from side to side almost running off the road. Miss Parish fought desperately to regain control. The automobile straightened itself out, gradually losing momentum. She brought it to a stop.

She emerged from the disabled automobile. It was too dark to see anything. She opened the trunk and lit a match. "No Jack! Now what am I going to do?"

Miss Parish sat down on the running board. "I suppose I could walk back to town and get help . . . or I could stop a passing car—if there was one." She retained her position on the running board.

In the distance appeared a set of headlights. Miss Parish took a small handkerchief from her purse and waved it at the on-coming car. It slowed down somewhat, but then resumed its speed and disregarded the appeal for aid.

SHE waited for what seemed like a long time before another automobile came into sight. As one loomed near she waved her handkerchief hopefully. It came to a screeching halt alongside her own car.

"What seems to be the trouble, Miss?"

"I had a blow-out and I don't have a jack."

"Fear no more, my lady," a man said, getting out of his car. "I'm certain there is at least one around somewhere."

"You're a life saver."

"Wait a minute," the man said. "Come over here near the headlights."

She hesitated. "But, why . . ."

He took her arm, guiding her to where he could see her face.

"Roberta!" he cried out. "It's you!"

"Yes, Wayne."

"You recognized my voice—and you tried to keep me from knowing who you were. Why?"

"I explained all of that to you in the note I left," she said.

"Note nothing. I've been looking for you for six months. I was ready to notify the police."

"No, Wayne, I . . ."

"I'm in love with you, Roberta. I want to marry you."

"I can't," she answered.

"Why can't you?"

"I'm in love with you, Roberta. I want to marry you," Wayne said.

"Because your success means too much to you . . . and to me."

"I can't have success without you, Roberta."

"You can't have it with me," she retorted, tears forming in her eyes. "The play you produced with me in the lead flopped. It flopped because I wasn't good enough for the part."

"It was a bad play Roberta."

"It was a good play," she said defiantly. "Don't you see, Wayne, you'd go on producing plays with me in the lead and everyone would flop because I'm just not good enough for Broadway."

"Is it somebody else?"

"No," she answered. "I'm the dramatic coach at Deep Valley High School. It doesn't pay as much as Broadway . . . but at least I can handle the part."

"Roberta, come back—"

"I belong here Wayne. Just as you belong on Broadway. We each have what we want, —or almost what we want. Now help me change the tire; I'm giving a party for my cast tonight."
